> The history of this country of Bhootan is interesting. The best authorities say it is about two hundred and fifty miles in length by ninety five in breadth, with an area of sixty-four thousand square niles, and a population of seven hundred and fifty thousand souls—having Bengal Proper on the south, Assam to the southeast, and Thibet to the north. Like the highlands of Scotiand, it is a place of mountain fastnesses and wild glens. Its people, whom few white men have seen, are rude barbarians, whose arms are the bow and arrow and the spear, and who are of Tartar blood, with broad triangular faces, small oblique eyes and yellow skins. Their religion is Buddhist, of a modified type, and the country swarms with mendicant priests.—

Headq'as Mil. Div. of the Miss'p!,

In the Firld, Savannah, Ga.,

January 8, 1865.

N. W. — Esq., — County, Ga:

Dear Siz: Yours of the 3d inst. is received, and in answer to your enquiries I beg to state:

I am merely a military commander and can only act in that capacity; nor can I give any asonly act in that capacity; nor can I give any assurance or pledges affecting civil matters in the future. They will be adjusted by Congress when Georgia is again represented there as of mains is for you to seal the pit on the 22d of February, the anniversary of the day which gave birth to the Father of his Country. Consecrate your work on that day. EMANCIPATION OF BLACKS AND WHITPS. I feel a heartfelt gratitude that I have lived to see it done, and that I have been permitted to perform my little part in this great drama.—

The blow has been struck, and slavery lies prostrate. An insolent, insincere, ignorant, unfeeling, hypocritical, nefarious, diabolical slave aristocracy has been tumbled to the ground.

They who never bernad that ted States must pursue them with armies, and deal with them according to military law. But

They who never learned that "Worth makes the man, and want of it the tellow." who lived on the real or imaginary honors of buried ancestry, have at least learned that an ignorant, corrupt aristocracy must go down.— Your sessions have been, on the whole, harmoious, notwithstanding some little bickering which I think will all pass away with your adjournment. While you think you have eman-cipated black men, I tell you that you have emancipated more white than black men from the insolent domination of the slaveholder. Yes, the time was not long ago when you dared not speak your sentiments. Even in East Tennessee, where there were only few slaves, and we always spoke more freely, do you not remember the power which the claveholder exercised? how many of our people were compelled to live on harmy orders and allered to be a sent and and the second services. to live on barren ridges and cultivate the stony spots, while a few slaveholders owned thousand of broad acres in the fertile valleys, which they tilled with their bondsmen. Even you felt their power, and knew the contempt they felt for you. Because, many years ago, I dared to speak of these things, I was denounced as an agrarian and demagague, who appealed to the pre of the people. Thank God, I have lived to see the day when the people of my State have de-clared themselves free. I must now urge you to redouble your efforts to carry out your work when you go hence. If you consummate it with the same resolution, the foul blot of human slavery will be removed from the escutcheon of the State. I shall say nothing of the future condition of the rest. Let us first get rid of slavery; let there be no bickering or conflict till we get that cut of the way. This being done, we will take up other questions, and dispose of them as they arise. Who could have anticipated three years ago, that we would have anticipated three years ago that we would have progressed thus far?-Let us, like wise wen, hold ourselves in readiness to manage the new questions which may arise in the future.
